About the Market

MENA—US

More than $180 billion in goods traded between the U.S. and MENA in 2012, with U.S. exports making up just over a third of that figure at $65 billion. The top export commodities were machinery ($12.3 billion), vehicles ($10.4 billion) and aircraft ($8.4 billion). Perhaps unsurprisingly, the vast majority of U.S. imports from MENA came from the mineral fuel and oil the region has in abundance ($108.7 billion), trailed by precious stones ($10.3 billion).

Authorizations for financing in the region by the U.S. Ex-Im Bank increased from just half a billion dollars in 2011 to $9 billion in 2012.
